
Crisis GM Soundfont Sf2

08.2010. This is an unofficial update from SonicLover. He's just posted a new download from Project Pitchfork, and it is indeed the MIDI version of the latest Crisis 3.51 update! That means that it may be the final version. At this time, the MIDI is missing the ability to change the instrument for MIDI input, so you can't play the end-user versions. And yet, it's still rather playable. Only a few differences in the final version will be a little more apparent. So, download this if you're willing to try a non-standard MIDI file. This is a direct link to the MIDI, so, if you want the SF2 version, go to SonicLover's forum thread. Crisis General midi 3.0 is about 1.57 Go without compression. There is no way to load this huge Soundfont into memory with Creative tools and cards. All in all, it's pretty simple: you download the files, and after that you don't need to edit them, because Soundfont will automatically do everything for you. After that, all that remains is to place these files in the appropriate folders in your project and start playing them. Fig. 7.5. Crisis General midi 3.0 player Fig. 7.6.
