The folder has some files and some folders. How can I view the revision of a single file in TortoiseSVN without using the command line. A: You can right click on a file or directory in the repository and choose Show log from the context menu. This will take you to the log of that file. There you can read about the number of revisions. The revision number is shown under the date as timestamp. The file and the timestamp is calculated when the file or directory was added to the repository. The Almond in the Fire "The Almond in the Fire" is the seventh episode of the ninth season of the CBS sitcom How I Met Your Mother and the 166th episode overall. It aired on October 26, 2011. Plot At a dinner party celebrating the twins' birthday, the Fire Marshal comes to speak to Marshall and Lily about the "Almond in the Fire" incident: A series of fires occurred in a remote part of New York in the months before they met, in which arson was suspected. Lily says that she's heard about it, but doesn't remember where, but Marshall confesses that he did indeed commit some of those fires. Marshall says he doesn't know why he did it, but he now sees that "the Almond in the Fire" is a real person, and that person is him. To that end, he broke into someone's house to steal their photo albums. Lily is torn, on the one hand, because she has grown to care for this person (namely, herself), and also because, if they

The Lower Peninsula's eLearning Initiative's goal is to provide every student in every school an effective and efficient way to access the curriculum and support materials they need. The initiative provides a sustainable funding source for eLearning initiatives in the Lower Peninsula, bringing a cost-effective and comprehensive curriculum to every student, teacher, administrator, and school. The initiative also supports a region-wide Web-based curriculum repository and communication and integration of learning standards and best practices across the region. The eLearning Initiative is an open-enrollment, grant-funded initiative and its goal is to help schools identify, coordinate, and fund an eLearning program. The initiative provides small grants of up to $15,000. Schools may apply for an eLearning Initiative grant to build an eLearning program in response to a clear educational need. The Lower Peninsula is the first to adopt the Federal Initiative for Education and Career Readiness, but other states have followed suit. The initiative has been adopted by the state of Vermont and approved by the state of New York. The state of Michigan's initiative was approved by the state and is under consideration for Federal approval. The following schools were awarded funding for a statewide eLearning initiative: Alpena School District – $15,000 Calumet Community School District – $15,000 Iron Mountain School District – $15,000 St. Martin School District – $15,000
