A: Those messages come from some server software (the network stack) on your PC. You must be aware that it is normal to get those messages on any PC connected to a network. As for the configuration, you must ensure that the USB port is not disabled in the BIOS (unless the PC has USB built-in to the motherboard). See this tutorial for a more detailed explanation: Alternatively, if you have the USB stick with a Linux distribution on it already, try copying the /casper/filesystem.squashfs file from it to the USB stick. This will create a directory for the squash file and add the ISO to the USB stick. Q: ListView cell's text with specific color (Android) I want to set ListView's cells with specific color (only color, not the text itself), so I was planning to use this: public class ColoredListAdapter extends ArrayAdapter { private final Context context; private final ArrayList colors; public ColoredListAdapter(Context context, ArrayList colors) { super(context, R.layout.list_item_layout, colors); this.context = context; this.colors = colors; } @Override public View getView(int position, View view, ViewGroup parent) { View rowView = convertView; if(rowView == null) { LayoutInflater inflater = (LayoutInflater) context.getSystemService(Context.LAYOUT_INFLATER_SERVICE); rowView = inflater.inflate(R.layout.list_item_layout, parent, false); } //Do something here... } } But it has some problems. Only last item of listview is displayed with this (for some reason?). If I try to
