and 2K have officially shared new information regarding the upcoming action-RPG sequel. During their pre-E3 press conference, the game's creative director Randy Pitchford revealed that Borderlands 3 will be released in 2020 and will be coming to PC, PlayStation 4, and Xbox One. This announcement was made alongside a brand new trailer which showcases the game's new combat, technology, and world. "Borderlands 3 is being developed on a different platform than Borderlands 2, to allow us to deliver a more seamless experience and tackle new and growing technology," said Pitchford. "We're entering uncharted territory, and to do this with the support and commitment of fans like you is hugely exciting.

"Borderlands 3 will be playable by anyone who owns Borderlands 2 and the first two games, and will feature characters, skills, and environments from those earlier titles. To get a sense of the experience, just watch the announcement trailer. "Borderlands 3 is coming to PC,
