What do you think about the quality and value for the price kamus jamak taksir A: Your problem is not really related to the Mapnik parser, but to the pysal parser (which is used by Mapnik to process the XML). Pysal is a very simple parser, so its pretty hard to debug. My advice is to try using a different parser. This might be overkill for you, but it is better to use one that is better tested and fit your needs than to try to tweak the Mapnik parser. You can either use one of the other Python libraries like geonames or geopy, which have better parsers than pysal, or you can try to load the XML file into a tree and traverse it. Q: How can I save a value every second in pyqt? So I'm trying to learn pyqt (and I'm a beginner in python actually) but I'm having some problems because I'm not really sure how to use the 'winfo_pointerxy' function to determine where the mouse is in the window. I'm trying to understand how to save the current x and y values to the data file every second. However, the command 'winfo_pointerxy' keeps returning an error that "No functioning signature found for function winfo_pointerxy()". Here's my code: from PyQt5 import QtWidgets, QtGui, QtCore import sys import time class Ui_MainWindow(object): def setupUi(self, MainWindow): MainWindow.setObjectName("MainWindow") MainWindow.resize(770, 544) self.centralwidget = QtWidgets.QWidget(MainWindow)
