1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a seal structure for a running board, which is disposed under an opening formed in the body of a vehicle, and in particular to a seal structure for a running board, which is disposed under an opening in the body of a vehicle such as a trunk or a wheel house, at the front and back end portions of the opening, by means of using a grommet in which a rubber seal member is disposed.

2. Related Art In the past, a seal structure for a running board is equipped with a rubber seal member, and a grommet into which the rubber seal member is fitted is disposed in the running board in the width direction thereof. Further, as a state in which the grommet is fitted into the running board, a method is known in which a movable member is provided in the grommet, and a holding portion of the movable member is fitted into the body of the vehicle and held by a holding groove disposed in the body of the vehicle, so that the grommet can be held on the side of the body of the vehicle. Therefore, in the sealing structure for the running board, when the grommet is fitted into the running board, it is possible to bring the grommet into contact with the side wall of the opening in the width direction of the opening of the body of the vehicle and press the grommet into the opening with the rubber
