Category:Auto CAD 100 Cal.App.3d 648 (1980) 161 Cal. Rptr. 829 JOHN PAUL LAMB, Plaintiff and Appellant, v. COUNTY OF STANISLAUS, Defendant and Respondent. Docket No. 18309. Court of Appeals of California, Third District. November 25, 1980. *650 COUNSEL Louis E. Lanter for Plaintiff and Appellant. John K. Van de Kamp, District Attorney, Donald J. Kaplan and Joseph P. Russoniello, Deputy District Attorneys, for Defendant and Respondent. OPINION PUGLIA, P.J. John Paul Lamb appeals from a judgment dismissing a personal injury action after sustaining a demurrer without leave to amend. Lamb seeks to impose liability for injuries he sustained while serving in the California National Guard on a local fire department. The issue presented is whether a service member of a county fire department is entitled to the benefits of Government Code section 820.2[1] immunity for injuries sustained in the course of performing a fire protection activity under the facts alleged in the complaint. *651 (1a) We conclude that Lamb, a member of a county fire department, was not an employee of a public entity and, therefore, is not entitled to section 820.2 immunity. Lamb was an inmate at San Quentin State Prison during the summer of 1977. He was employed as a fireman with the St. Helena Fire Protection District. The fire department received training in firefighting from a unit of the California National Guard. One day in July, Lamb, a correctional officer, was on duty at San Quentin State Prison. He was called to the hospital on an emergency basis. When he arrived, the person in charge of the fire department told him, "It's a civilian job." Lamb replied, "Don't worry, I can do it," and proceeded to place a telephone call to the county of Stanislaus fire department. He later placed the call to the Stanislaus County Sheriff's Department as well. The Sheriff's Department sent Lamb to his home to get his fire gear. He then joined other firemen at the hospital where the individual in charge of the fire department told him that, "I'm telling you now, it's a department job." Lamb was then taken to the scene where he put on his firefighting gear and began the training. Shortly 5b5f913d15
