This study investigated the learning experience of Somali language students who were studying English. A Level Biology, AS-Level Physics and Chemistry at a Specialist College in the north east of England. A questionnaire was administered to the students at the end of each of the three years to investigate their awareness of the materials they had used, their perceived knowledge and confidence to use the language. The findings highlighted some learners' difficulties in learning Somali; they were not as well prepared as other students in the same year group and the literacy rates of the Somali students were much lower than those of other students. It was suggested that re-assessments of and adjustments to the language materials be made and that an inclusion approach to teaching the Somali language be considered.Q: How to play video from Django? Hi, I'm new to Django and I have to build a site that displays video from the web server. I found nothing so far. How can I get the video from the web server? Is there a good document about it? A: I think that you need to use python's builtin libraries to deal with video for that matter, but it is still worth learning how to get media working in Django as it will help you in the future when you'll need to incorporate media into an app of your own. EDIT: OK, I've done some more research, and it looks like there are a number of ways you can get video in Django. The easiest (but slowest) is to go to a third-party that is a Django-integrated video player. Here is a list of a few: Pytube (No thanks :-P) QuickTime Gallery MediaFileStorage (optional, not officially supported) To access the videos in Django, it is generally recommended to save them to a directory that is organized by video 1cb139a0ed
