AutoCAD is available for the x86 family of microprocessors as well as the ARM family. Both architectures are found in computers and tablets. The x86 architecture is prevalent in personal computers and servers, while ARM architecture is prevalent in tablets and mobile devices, such as smartphones and smart watches. AutoCAD for Windows and AutoCAD for Android are available for computers with either architecture. AutoCAD LT is available for the ARM architecture only and for low-cost products. The current version is 2017. Newer versions are named by adding a digit to the current version. For example, version 2010 is AutoCAD 2010, version 2013 is AutoCAD 2013, version 2015 is AutoCAD 2015, and version 2017 is AutoCAD 2017.

AutoCAD LT 2016 is AutoCAD's entry-level desktop app. It has some of the same features as AutoCAD with the exception of most vector features. Autodesk is the leading supplier of commercial 3D CAD.

Autodesk products include AutoCAD, AutoCAD LT, AutoCAD

WS, 3ds Max, Fusion 360, Inventor, Maya, and SketchBook Pro.

Damiano (titular archbishop of Luna) Damiano (died after 1028) was a Roman Catholic titular archbishop of Luna and Prince-Bishop of Lübeck. Life Born of the family of Ugo, count of Monte Porzio, Sicily, he became a monk of Monte Cassino in 1030. In 1035, he became Abbot of the monastery of Saint Symeon on the promontory of Salerno, where he remained until 1043. In 1036, Pope Benedict IX sent him to consecrate the newly-built Monastery of Saint Anthony, Uscana (today Uscana, near Carcare), as a house of Dominican monks. Bishop of Lübeck After he was elected bishop of Lübeck in 1043, Pope Benedict IX sent him to the court of King Henry III of Germany, in order to mediate between him and his brother, Henry II, whose exile from Rome had forced the latter to found his court at Cologne. Damiano returned to Rome in 1046, then accompanied Pope Leo IX during the whole of his last pilgrimage. After his return, he was summoned to the third German diet at Salzburg (in Salerno) in the Kingdom of Aragon (1051), and later called upon to choose a new bishop for Lübeck. He then retired to Monte Cassino and was invited to consecrate his own monastery of Saint Demetrios. There he continued to work on the chronicle compiled by Peter Damiani. He died before 1028.
