Made with you in mind, CryptPad is simple to use and works wherever you are. You can add files to the vault, export them and access them from the desktop or mobile device. The data stays on Dropbox servers encrypted with your unique CryptPad key. Your key never leaves your device, and will never be stored in the cloud. Security by design, with you in mind CryptPad is built from the ground up to be secure and easy to use. It provides you with a strong, modern encryption engine that is fast, easy to use, and available on all your devices. Your files stay on Dropbox servers encrypted with a single key, so they're as safe as they are useful. Use cases for CryptPad Use CryptPad for the same data vault as the rest of Dropbox. It's an all-in-one storage solution. Add and organize data in the cloud that you can access from anywhere. Use CryptPad to send sensitive data securely. The most common use case is secure communication, whether it's an email with sensitive information or a self-destructing photo. Use CryptPad when you want to quickly save a document or a photo. You can encrypt your files securely, send them to friends or colleagues, and no one will be able to open them without the correct password. Use CryptPad when you want to share information with your mobile phone. It's easy to share sensitive files, photos, or documents through SMS and email without sharing the password. Keep an eye on your data You have two-step verification to protect your account, so you always have access to your data when you need it. If you lose your phone, your account won't be locked. Try it out yourself Take a free trial today and try CryptPad for yourself. Start with the most popular use case: sending secure communications and files. What's New In Signature995?

The most important documents are found under the PDF format due to their increased security. However, you might need to further protect or sign documents before publishing or distributing them. Signature995 gives you the possibility to encrypt any PDF file and more documents to maximize protection. Encrypt PDF and office files The application runs in a pretty compact main window, with features clearly visible and major functions stored in tabs. Activity required on your behalf only imply a few mouse clicks. The desired file needs to be loaded, which is done only through the dedicated browser, with no possibility to drag documents over the main window. You are able to encrypt PDF files, as well as your common office suite file formats. However, there are more options when using PDF documents. You can impose restrictions, such as printing or having content copied to clipboard. This comes in handy for classified documents, with the possibility to further secure them with a password. Sign and verify encrypted files Needless to say that the application puts a tool at your disposal with which the reverse process is done. You are only required to select the desired file and, if the case applies, provide the password used to encrypt. Furthermore, to make your documents authentic, you are able to digitally sign them, as well as co-sign existing ones. The process is simple, with only a few text fields needing to be filled. To make sure everything is in order, a function lets you verify signatures, displayed in a properties window. To end with Taking everything into consideration, we can say that Signature995 is a neat application that secures your important documents. Its features are easy to use, even though it's not the prettiest of its kind. All you need to keep in mind when handling your files is the password, otherwise your documents are lost.
