

Outlining Guide for Compare and Contrast Essay - Expert Guide

One of the most frequently employed essay types in essay writing is custom writing, where you have to critically explore and evaluate a text. There is a considerable difference between analyzing and summarizing the text. Analytical essays are not text summaries. Instead, they involve critical interpretation of the text to analyze the meaning or theme conveyed by the author with the help of textual elements.

Crafting strong critical essays is not easy. To analyze a text, you have to carefully break it down into its textual component and then analyze its central idea by formulating coherent arguments. This demands a certain level of skill and writing competency. However, most of the students lack the needed writing and research skill to produce quality essays. Thankfully, to ease this trouble, multiple platforms are available that provide cheap essay writing service. Availing of these services, you can have your essays written by professionals at affordable pricing.

Returning to discussing analytical essays, they are not restricted to one type or form. Analytical essays can be further divided into cause and effect essays, compare and contrast essays, classification essays, and so on. In this article, we will narrow our focus to discussing compare and contrast essays.

Definition

In easy words, compare and contrast essays include side by side comparison of two contrasting ideas or concepts. The purpose of a compare and contrast essay is to look for intersecting points where the two ideas match in their meaning or purpose, along with tracing the differences between the two. Writing compare and contrast essays need detailed research, planning, and organization of the ideas before you begin the best essay writing service.

In the following section, we have introduced you to a detailed guide using which you can write compelling compare and contrast essays. Make sure that you closely follow this step-by-step guide in proper sequencing, and you will be done with your essays in a short time.

1) Research Your Ideas Before Hand

Before you start writing on your topic, the most important step in essay writing is to research your essays. Collect all the scholarly evidence and argumentative points that you wish to discuss in your essays. Once you have your material available, you will be done with 30% of your essay.

2) Create an Outline

Creating a detailed outline is important before you start essay writer services. Once you have your research material available, arranging it in a comprehensive outline saves a lot of your time in arranging or structuring your documents. For example, when I write essay for me I make sure to align all of my target arguments followed by supportive evidence in the form of an outline. When you have your outline available, you can smoothly transition from one argument to another without pausing your writing to think.

3) Start with the introduction

Your introductory paragraph is an important part of your compare and contrast essay. Following are the components which must be added in your compare and contrast essays:

1. A strong Hook

Always start your compare and contrast essays with a strong academic papers. It can be an introductory statement, an example, a reference quote, etc., which is related to your topic.

1. Introduce Your topic

Introduce the ideas that you are about to compare and contrast in your essays. Make sure that you add a clear introduction of your topic and target ideas which you want to discuss.

1. Thesis statement

Conclude your introduction with a strong thesis. In your thesis statement, make sure that you have highlighted your academic excellence for the comparison and the direction which you wish to take with relation to the target topic.

4) Body Paragraphs

Body paragraphs make the central body of your content. In your body paragraph, you have to elaborate on one point for comparison per paragraph. Also, make sure that you have clearly presented your points for comparison. You can start off with similarities, which can be introduced in a single paragraph, and later move on to differences, one difference per paragraph.

5) Conclusion

Conclude your compare and contrast essay by presenting a short summary of your discussed arguments. Make sure that you state your thesis by relating your discussed points in relation to your thesis. Tie everything together, and you are done with your essay.

Here you go with a detailed guide as to how to prepare, plan and structure your compare and contrast essays. Now that you have a clear understanding of this type of argumentative essay, what are you waiting for? Grab your pens and start TheEssayWritingService.